

SUMMER 2010 IN INDIA

GRADUATE STUDENTS ASTRONOMY / ASTROPHYSICS (Theory, Observation, Simulations, Instrumentation)

Spend 8 weeks in India working on a research project

Great opportunity for an international collaboration

One-of-a-kind cultural experience

Program pays:

- Round-trip airfare from US to India
- Stipend of US $500 per week
- Lodging and medical insurance

Visit our web site at <http://eo.nso.edu/ires/> for more information and application materials

Apply early - Deadline is January 26, 2010

Program sponsored by the National Science Foundation's (NSF) Office of International Science and Engineering (OISE), and administered by the National Solar Observatory (NSO) / Global Oscillation Network Group (GONG) in Tucson, Arizona, as well as the Indian Institute of Astrophysics (IIA) in Bangalore, India.

